

AS SEEN IN HOUSE BEAUTIFUL

ADVERTISEMENT

Living in Outdoor Luxury

Utilizing cutting-edge virtual reality landscape design services, Luxe Outdoor Environments is bringing the outdoor living spaces of clients' dreams to life.

DESIGN IN PHOENIX

Landscape design by Terry Jones. Photography by Mike Small Photography.

Imagine being able to immerse yourself in your new backyard oasis, watching plants sway in the breeze, hearing water lapping in the pool, and seeing flames glow from the fireplace as you walk by your new outdoor kitchen complete with a grill and granite countertops.

It may sound unreal, but Jennifer and Joshua Daniels, owners of Luxe Outdoor Environments, create such experiences through virtual reality design software that brings 3D landscape plans to life. "Clients are able to fully immerse themselves through a full-scale, lifelike rendering of their yard to see and feel what it is going to look like before we even break ground," says Jennifer. "This technology allows our clients to see their outdoor space in a way that 3D design just can't do, with functionality to adjust the design until the concept is exactly what they want."

No other landscaping company in the Scottsdale area offers this service—which makes sense because Luxe Outdoor Environments is unlike its competitors. Eschewing cookie-cutter templates that lack creativity, the landscape company customizes all of their designs to be tailored to their clients' lifestyles. Think outdoor fireplaces, living rooms, and kitchens featuring high-end finishes enhanced by cooling misters, tasteful lighting, and even pool-dwelling fire bowls. Every project begins with an in-office consultation, followed by a site visit and customized landscape design built in 3D and virtual reality.

"We put a lot of emphasis and thought into the form and function of every design we create," says Jennifer. "An outdoor living space is such a valuable extension of the home, especially in Arizona with year-round outside enjoyment, and we want our clients to enjoy theirs for years to come."

POOL + LANDSCAPES

480-634-8060 | LuxeOutdoorEnvironments.com