REBUILDING LIVES

Ralph Frasier, Jr., and John Griffin, III, are passionate leaders in their community and fierce advocates for client rights.

A full-service criminal defense and personal injury law firm serving Durham, Raleigh, and surrounding areas, Frasier & Griffin, PLLC, deftly handles anything from traffic tickets and fender benders to significant murder charges and complex wrongful death claims. Attorneys Ralph Frasier, Jr., and John Griffin, III, founded the firm in 2006 to utilize their legal knowledge and help clients overcome barriers. Providing personalized legal services, they get to know each client as individuals, not just as a party to a legal case.

“We treat our clients like family,” says Griffin. “We understand what they are going through and do our best to help them through hard times.”

Demystifying the legal process can help ease fears of litigation, which is why clients of Frasier & Griffin are kept up to date on their cases and are thoroughly educated regarding court appearances, potential charges, or alleged claims. Forthcoming and transparent, Frasier and Griffin do not withhold information, good or bad.

“When the case is explained, you know what you’re up against and are prepared for the worst,” says Griffin. “Obtaining a more favorable result will always be a better day.”

Fighting for clients’ best interests, the firm’s attorneys prioritize collaboration when determining whether to proceed to trial or work out a plea deal. “Some people want to fight; others do not want to wait to hear what 12 jurors have to say when their life and freedom are at stake,” explains Griffin. “We always consider client needs during representation.”

Given their experience, Griffin and Frasier have built relationships with prosecutors in each jurisdiction in which they practice, allowing them to know the most effective power plays and how to expeditiously resolve cases.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Frasier & Griffin helps those with limited resources resolve their cases, get back on their feet, and create a fresh start. “They are counting on us to protect their rights,” says Griffin. “That’s our job, and we are here to help them rebuild their lives.”

Criminal defendants often have the cards stacked against them and are not always given a fair prosecution. Frasier & Griffin recognizes that people charged with crimes are not always bad or guilty, as societal stigmas dictate. First-time offenders are commonly remorseful, young, or have made a mistake.

“We continue to fight for people down on their luck, and no one is overlooked,” says Griffin. “Everyone has the right to a defense.”
