Since 1986, the Alexander family has been recognized in Montgomery for compassionate medical care. “My parents, Dr. James Alexander, an internal medicine physician, and Dr. Lilly Alexander, a pediatrician, built this practice in 1994. I took over in 2011, as my mom retired,” says Dr. Jenny Alexander.

Dr. Alexander has since expanded the practice so much that, in 2019, she built a new, larger building to better accommodate her patients. She has two experienced nurse practitioners working alongside her. “My NPs are highly capable of providing care for our patients,” she says.

Michelle Kirkland, family nurse practitioner, joined the practice in 2013. Kirkland has served the River Region area for more than 16 years.

Jill Fitch, family nurse practitioner, joined the practice in 2018. She has been working with children and adolescents in the River Region for almost 20 years and is “honored to continue to do so as a part of the Alexander Pediatrics team.”

Alexander Pediatrics is a general pediatric outpatient practice. They follow the general guidelines provided by the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

The providers manage routine healthcare—not only well-child care, but also asthma, allergies, eczema, obesity, and hypertension. They also case manage with other specialists and their specific recommendations. Some of the procedures done in the office are vaccinations; urinalysis; rapid strep, flu, and RSV tests; ear washes; removal of foreign bodies; nebulizer treatments; cauterization; and cryotherapy.

Alexander Pediatrics is accepting new patients, from newborns to 18 years of age.

“We strive to alleviate all concerns and address each issue. Our providers and staff try to ensure the patient and parents leave the office visit feeling satisfied with the care they received,” says Dr. Jenny Alexander. “It is reassuring for parents to know they can get advice at any point in time.

We are available during office hours, as well as after hours through our 24-hour on-call service.”

Growing up in Montgomery, Dr. Alexander is accustomed to running into her parents’ patients around town.

“Now, I see my own patients and feel a sense of pride when they run over and give me a hug. Many of our patients grew up with my mom as their doctor. Many of them are now grown up and having babies of their own. It is reassuring and fulfilling to see that they had a great experience in our practice and trust us enough to bring their own children, too.”
